

Supplier Code of Conduct

Foreword

Ansell protects the safety of millions of people around the world every day. Taking our mission further, we are committed to extending that protection to our employees, environment, community, and workers in our supply chain through responsible human rights, environmental and governance practices. Over the past several years, Ansell has transformed the ways in which we incorporate sustainability into our business practices, and we will continue to advance further in this area in the years ahead.

This Supplier Code of Conduct lays out how we expect our suppliers to support these commitments. We value our supplier relationships and commit to working with them to improve practices to meet our standards in good faith. I believe meeting these standards will also make our suppliers more successful businesses, fit to continue supplying to Ansell far into the future. We look forward to working with you to become safer, smarter and stronger together.

1. Overview of Supplier Code of Conduct

- (c) Ansell is committed to upholding international human rights and ethical frameworks including the UN Declaration of Human Rights and International Labor Organisation Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work.

- (e) Ansell's management, led by its CEO, has overall responsibility for ensuring this Supplier Code of Conduct complies with Ansell's commitments as well as legal and ethical obligations.

2. Application of this Supplier Code of Conduct

- (a) This Supplier Code of Conduct applies to all direct participants in Ansell's supply chain.

Ansell operates a zero-tolerance policy when it comes to bribery and corruption:

- (a) Supplier will comply with all local laws and regulations concerning prohibitions on bribery and corruption. Supplier must not, while conducting business on Ansell's behalf, pay, accept, loan or offer a bribe, kickback or improper payment to anyone. In addition, Supplier must not hire a third party to do something it cannot ethically or legally do itself.
- (b) For the purposes of compliance with this Supplier Code of Conduct, a "bribe" includes anything of value, including money, gifts, loans or other favours, that may influence or appear to influence the recipient's business decisions or compromise independent judgment. A "kickback" is the return of a sum already paid or due to be paid as a reward for making or fostering business arrangements.

- (b) Ansell reserves the right, upon reasonable notice, to check compliance with the requirements of this Supplier Code of Conduct.
- (c) In addition, Ansell requires Suppliers to partner with SEDEX and conduct at least every two years SEDEX Members Ethical Trade Audits (SMETA) using the 4-pillar methodology¹ with accredited third-party auditors to help Ansell evaluate Suppliers’ labour, health and safety, environment and business ethics standards, and as such to provide Ansell and its customers and other relevant stakeholders independent verification of compliance with these standards and this Supplier Code of Conduct.
- (d) Where non-compliances are identified, Suppliers are required to create specific corrective action plans to mitigate any deviance from this Supplier Code of Conduct as well as from applicable local laws and regulations in the countries in which Supplier operates. Regular follow-up audits must be scheduled and completed to confirm ongoing compliance. To ensure transparency all audit reports must be uploaded to the SEDEX digital data platform.
- (e) Any breach of the obligations stipulated in this Supplier Code of Conduct is considered a material breach of the terms and conditions or contract governing the supply relationship between Supplier and Ansell. If non-conformances are not corrected within agreed timelines or breaches are repeated, the contract between Supplier and Ansell may be terminated.
