DRIFLOOR™

PROTECTING HEALTHCARE STAFF FROM COSTLY WORKPLACE INJURIES

The SANDEL® line of ergonomic safety products has been designed to address the need to protect staff from workplace injuries. In the European healthcare sector, slips, trips and falls on level floors were the second highest accident trigger in 2009, with 30% of these incidents resulting in employees being absent from work for over one month.

Musculoskeletal disorders resulting from physical stress injuries are also quite common in healthcare environments.

SANDEL devices offer cost-effective ways to prevent these common injuries.

The SANDEL DriFloor™ Absorbent Pads are used to collect fluids and keep the floor dry, to prevent slips and falls.

DriFloor™ improves the efficiency of clean-up and reduces costly turnover time.

- Can be used on floors wherever fluids collect (e.g. operating room, labour and delivery, scrub sinks)
- Eliminates the unsanitary and inappropriate use of blankets or towels on the floor
- Fluid-proof backing keeps the floor dry underneath the pad
- Available pre-cut or on a roll, allowing users to cut the desired length
