Z-SLIDER®

PROTECTING HEALTHCARE STAFF FROM COSTLY WORKPLACE INJURIES

The SANDEL® line of ergonomic safety products has been designed to address the need to protect staff from workplace injuries. In the European healthcare sector, slips, trips and falls on level floors were the second highest accident trigger in 2009, with 30% of these incidents resulting in employees being absent from work for over one month.

Musculoskeletal disorders resulting from physical stress injuries are also quite common in healthcare environments.

SANDEL devices offer cost-effective ways to prevent these common injuries.

The SANDEL Z-Slider® Patient Transfer & Repositioning Sheet helps prevent disabling back injuries resulting from lifting, transferring, and repositioning patients, by decreasing physical strain to the back, shoulders, neck, and arms.

- Supports proper patient handling and ergonomic techniques
- Disposable, reducing the potential for cross-contamination
- Can be used throughout the facility with convenient point-of-use support holders
- Single-patient use, designed for multiple uses with the same patient
- Patient Transfer Sheet packaged for Point-of-Use Wall Mount Holder.

The SANDEL® product line offers deliberate solutions for healthcare professionals wishing to increase safety standards in surgical environments. SANDEL Healthcare Safety Devices are guided by user experience to help meaningfully address unintended safety gaps and provide added peace of mind.
